Dear Director San Antonio:

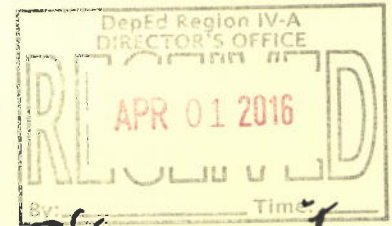

In line with the national celebration of History Month by virtue of Proclamation No. 339, s. 2012, the Philippine Historical Association (PHA) will hold a national gathering of historians, researchers and history/social science educators, on 18-20 August 2016 at Ateneo de Davao University, Davao City.

With the theme "Philippine Governance: Historical Perspectives", the conference offers a re-examination of Philippine governance through historical and cultural perspectives. The origins of the economic and socio-political predicaments of Philippine society can be rooted and assessed using historical knowledge and through historical research, structural and functional analyses may pave the way to evaluate present-day situations. Specifically, the conference aims to: 1) serve as platform for reflection, interaction, and discussion of new and emerging researches and perspectives on the history of governance in the Philippines; and 2) enhance the knowledge and skills of history/social studies educators in teaching Philippine government and political history.

In this regard, we would like to request the participation of Social Studies Supervisors, Head Teachers, Coordinators and Teachers in your region to attend this conference. The details of the conference are attached for your reference.

Thank you very much.

CALL FOR PAPER PRESENTERS AND PARTICIPANTS

2016 PHA National Conference

18-20 August 2016; Ateneo de Davao University, Davao City

In line with the national celebration of History Month by virtue of Proclamation No. 339, s. 2012, the Philippine Historical Association (PHA) will hold a national gathering of historians, researchers and history/social science educators, on August 18-20, 2016 at Ateneo de Davao University, Davao City. With the theme "Philippine Governance: Historical Perspectives", the conference offers a re-examination of Philippine governance through historical and cultural perspectives. The origins of the economic and socio-political predicaments of Philippine society can be rooted and assessed using historical knowledge and through historical research, structural and functional analyses may pave the way to evaluate present-day situations. Thus, these insights may shed alternatives to understand and offer approaches to deal with existing social problems. Likewise, the identification of recurring themes or historical patterns in Philippine governance may lead to further understanding of the nature of our societal structures and explain current and emerging political and cultural issues. Historical and cultural perspectives on Philippine Governance are essential inputs to a nation's understanding of its identity - past, present and future.

Specifically, the conference aims to: 1) serve as platform for reflection, interaction, and discussion of new and emerging researches and perspectives on the history of governance in the Philippines; and 2) enhance the knowledge and skills of history/social studies educators in teaching Philippine government and political history.

INVITATION TO JOIN THE PHILIPPINE HISTORICAL ASSOCIATION

Historians, history educators, researchers, cultural heritage workers, graduate students of history and related disciplines and other professionals who are involved or interested in doing serious study, research and teaching of Philippine history and culture are welcome to join the Philippine Historical Association.

The Philippine Historical Association is a professional association of historians and history teachers in the Philippines. It was founded on September 18, 1955 by a group of prominent historians at Carbungco Restaurant located at Lepanto St., Manila. Among the group were Encarnacion Alzona, Gabriel Fabella, Gregorio Zaide, Nicolas Zafra, Celedonio Resurreccion, Teodoro Agoncillo and Esteban de Ocampo.

PHA's main objective is to promote and propagate historical knowledge and studies. It promotes historical research and scholarship among its members through the publication of their works. The Association has an official journal, called "Historical Bulletin" which is published every year.

The main annual activity of the Association is the holding of an annual conference whose theme deals with timely and relevant issues of national concern. To promote the study and appreciation of history, the Association initiates, sponsors and supports the holding of seminars on the teaching of history in Manila and in different parts of the country.

PHA is affiliated with the National Historical Commission of the Philippines - Local Historical Committees Network, National Commission for Culture and the Arts – National Committee on Historical Research and the Philippine Social Science Council.

PHA designs programs and activities that help create opportunities for the professional growth of its members through seminars, conferences and publications.
