Dear Dr. San Antonio,

This is to inform you that the Science Education Institute, an attached agency of the Department of Science and Technology, is currently implementing a project entitled InnoBox: Search for the Most Innovative Teaching and Learning Materials in Science. This is a nationwide search for the most innovative teaching and learning resources in science, which is open to all public and private elementary and secondary schools nationwide. The search aims to encourage teachers to be innovative/creative/practical in teaching science concepts to improve students' performance in the subject.

In this connection, we are inviting all public and private elementary and secondary schools in your region to join the said Search. We are providing you the enclosed posters and flyers, which you may use to disseminate information regarding the Search, in addition to the DepEd Advisory issued by the DepEd Central Office and uploaded in the DepEd website.
