JAPAN FOUNDATION

What are Nihongo Partners?

NIHONGO Partners are people that The Japan Foundation Asia Center sends from Japan for a certain period of time to work as partners of Japanese language teachers and students at educational institutions in Asia. They are primarily sent to secondary educational institutions, more commonly known as high schools in Japan. These partners work as assistants in classes and introduce Japanese culture. They are also encouraged to interact widely outside the classroom. They do not merely teach, but also learn about the country's local language, culture and customs. They are sent for short periods ranging from about three months to a year, and within this period of time, they discover and experience new things, expanding their horizons and building their future.

What do Nihongo Partners do?

Assist the local Japanese-language teacher
during classes

Introduce

host country's culture - language, customs and
tradition

Nihongo Partners Q&A

Q: The NIHONGO Partners (NP) is...?

A: Teaching assistants to the Nihongo teachers at schools. They introduce Japanese culture and so on. They will act as resource persons/teaching assistants to the local Nihongo teacher at school, but they will not be able to teach Nihongo /"enTree" on their own since they do not have a teacher's license. The NPs are not trained to teach Nihongo like CJH Teachers, so classroom setting cannot be controlled by NPs alone. The JFM would like to ask CJH Teachers to be in the classroom together with NPs when lessons are conducted.

Q: To which countries are they dispatched?

A: Philippines, Thailand, Malaysia, Singapore, Myanmar, Vietnam, Brunei, Laos, Cambodia, China, Taiwan

Q: Until when will this last?

A: Until the Tokyo Olympics in 2020. - Extended

Q: How many NIHONGO Partners will be dispatched?

A: A total of 3000. Around 100 of whom will be dispatched to the Philippines.

Q: Are there different types of schools?

A: Yes. Main school and sub-school. NPs will initially focus on the main school. Once they get used to the activities, they will go to sub-schools as often as twice a week, or as seldom as once a month.

Q: Do the NIHONGO Partners need to record their work hours, i.e. timesheet?

A: No.

Q: Do the NIHONGO Partners involve themselves with the local educational institutions such as DepEd?

A: No.
